1. I called at the [REDACTED] Funeral Home last evening to offer my condolences to the family of [REDACTED]

2. I asked [REDACTED] if there was anything the Agency could do for her. She said that she needed no assistance at this time, but that she will be in town for about thirty days and would like very much to talk with someone at the Agency about possible employment. I told her that we would see that she was given every consideration and invited her to telephone me when she felt up to an interview.

3. I don't know what [REDACTED] qualifications may be, but I do think we should give her every consideration for a position she is qualified to fill.

STAT

4. If and when she telephones me, I will refer her to the Director of Personnel. In the meantime you might be thinking of possible positions.
